Choosing a band for your wedding? Here are a few things to consider...

Music Style

To ensure that your wedding is a memorable and enjoyable event, it's important to choose a band that plays the style of music you and your partner enjoy. A wedding typically has a diverse crowd, including parents, relatives, and young friends, so it's important to choose a band that can keep everyone entertained and on the move. A versatile band that can perform a range of genres is ideal for creating a lively atmosphere at your wedding.

WINGS is a band of highly skilled and experienced professional musicians who are capable of playing a wide range of genres, including pop, rock, and other styles. They are also skilled at playing both classic and modern Sinhala and English songs, as well as popular dance styles like electro dance and baila. This versatility makes WINGS the perfect choice for creating a lively and enjoyable atmosphere at your wedding.

Lighting Equipments

In addition to providing high-quality sound, WINGS also offers a complimentary, fully professional lighting setup that will enhance the aesthetics of your wedding day. Whether it's your first dance, a surprise dance, or a band performance, our complete light setup fixed on a truss bar will add an extra touch of magic to the occasion. As a complimentary service, the lighting setup is included in all of our packages at no additional cost. This will be a great value addition and make your wedding even more memorable.

Our light setup includes

- 6 moving heads (17R beam) fixed on a truss bar
- LED Par can colour wash lights
- COB lights
- Smoke machine

Song Repertoire

It's important to make sure that your band has a diverse selection of songs that you and your guests will enjoy. Ask the band about their repertoire and see if they can accommodate any specific songs or genres that you want to be played. Keep in mind that a limited set list of songs with a predetermined order may not be the best choice for a wedding, as the entertainment should follow the crowd.

With their extensive experience and diverse list of songs that they have performed at various venues, WINGS has the skills and experience to dynamically change the order of the songs and introduce new ones to keep the crowd entertained throughout the event.

Flexibility

When choosing a band for your wedding, it's important to consider their flexibility and willingness to work with you to create the perfect atmosphere for your special day. This includes being open to discussions and requests, such as playing specific songs or having practices with guest singers.

At WINGS, we understand the importance of being flexible and accommodating, and we always welcome couples to visit our studio to have a brief discussion and help them plan their schedule. We are also happy to practice any special requests with guest singers in our own studio to ensure that everything runs smoothly on the day of the event. By working together and being open to discussions, we can help create a truly memorable and enjoyable atmosphere for you and your guests.

Audio Equipments

Understanding the importance of maintaining an optimal volume level for the sound at a wedding is a crucial factor. This allows guests to have conversations while still being able to enjoy the music and stay entertained. Using a proper high-tech sound and light system can be an important factor in the overall quality and professionalism of the band's performance.

WINGS is proud to use our own sound system, which is manufactured in Canada and Belgium and consists of high-tech 'array' type speakers and bass bins. These speakers evenly disperse the sound with the same volume for everyone, regardless of their location in the venue. The powerful 4+1 (center) bin system delivers a strong low end that can handle even the most demanding situations on the dance floor. By using our own band-owned sound system, we are able to optimize the sound and provide crisp, high-definition sound that will make a notable difference for the crowd.

Reliability and Professionalism

In addition to being flexible and accommodating, it's important to choose a band that is reliable and works in utmost professionalism.

We approach every event with professionalism and dedication, and we are always punctual, well-prepared, and respectful of the venue and the guests. By working with us, you can trust that we will do our best to minimize any issues and overcome any challenges that may come up, thanks to our experience and knowledge. By choosing a band with a proven track record of success, you can have peace of mind that your wedding will be a memorable and enjoyable event for everyone.

Wings kindly agreed to perform at our wedding. They were amazing and really lit up and energised the guests with their music. They were excellent with their choice of Western and Sri Lankan music as well as baila music. Nilaksha was great to deal with and was always so prompt, reliable, professional and helpful. We are so grateful that they agree to perform at the wedding despite the current political turmoils

Hi,
The band was perfect. Everything went smooth.
All were professionals in music. Nice guys in person, courteous, flexible which I couldn't find in any other band.
Good luck. ❤️... See more
